Thieves Infest the Vicinity of West Trimble Street.

There seems to be a gang of thieves in the northwestern portion of the city. Night before last the home of Mr. Silas Jones, near Thirteenth street and Bernstein Avenue, was entered and a quantity of lard, bacon and ham stolen, and last night burglars got into the residence of Mr. W. A. Down, on West Trimble, and stole all of his canned goods, and a few other articles. There is no clue. Several other houses in the locality have recently been robbed, also, and the police are determined to catch the thieves sooner or later. The residents say they expect to hear of the marauders robbing the dead at Oak Grove next.

A LEADER AMONG THE NATIONS.

English Comment On the Signing of the Protocol—American Isolation is Gone Forever, and She Now Becomes a Factor in the Affairs of the World.

Scripps-McRae Service.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The Pall Mall Gazette in commenting on the signing of the protocol says:

America will henceforth have an undisputed place among the great powers which make history in the civilized and uncivilized world. Her day of self-contained isolation is gone forever. She may advance a little faster or a little less fast to meet her manifest destiny, but she stands today on the threshold of a new life.

Regarding the intertwined interest of Great Britain and the United States in China the Gazette further says: We can only say the latest news from China does not argue well for the maintenance of the newly restored peace among nations in which all are rejoicing today.

The Globe in commenting on the restored peace says: The ending of the war marks the final disappearance of Spain from the New World.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY PROCLAIMS PEACE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The president issued the following proclamation last night: By the president of the United States, a proclamation: Whereas, by a protocol concluded and signed August 12 by Wm. R. Day, secretary of state of the United States, and his excellency, Jules Cambon, ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary of the Republic of France, respectively representing for this purpose the government of the United States and the government of Spain, the United States and Spain formally agreed upon terms upon which the negotiations for the establishment of peace between the two countries shall be undertaken, and, whereas, in said protocol it is agreed that upon its conclusion and signature hostilities between the two countries shall be suspended and notice given as soon as possible by each government to the commanders of its military and naval forces; now, therefore, I, William McKinley, president of the United States, do, in said protocol, declare and proclaim on the part of the United States, a suspension of hostilities, and do hereby command that orders immediately be given through the proper channels to the commanders of the military and naval forces of the United States to abstain from all acts inconsistent with this proclamation. In witness whereof, I, hereunto set my hand and cause the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this 12th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, of the independence of the United States one hundred and twenty-third.

(Signed) WM. R. DAY, Secretary of State.

A copy of the proclamation has been cable to the army and every commander. Spain cabled her commanders like instructions last night.

WILL TAKE NO CHANCES.

The Government Will Increase
Its Coast Fortifications at Puget Sound, on the Pacific Coast.

Will Do This in Anticipation of Any Complications That May Arise Over the Philippine Islands.

Scripps-McRae Service.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 13.—In view of complications that may possibly arise in the settlement of the Philippine question, the government is pushing work on the fortifications in Puget Sound. A battery similar to those at Morristown Point and Admiralty Head, will be speedily erected at Point Wilson. The government will take no chances on the Pacific coast, but will have all important points equipped with the most modern fortifications and armaments.

BAD INDIANS.

dition and Won't Be Arrested.

Scripps-McRae Service.

Cheyenne, Wyoming, Aug. 13.—Governor Richards has been informed by the game warden at Pyle that forty Bannock Indians from Idaho are killing elk near Jackson's Hole and have successfully resisted arrest thus far. Secretary of Interior Bissell, at the request of the governor, has ordered the authorities at Fort Washakie to drive the Indians back to the reservation.

A CARLIST UPRISING

In Castillon, Spain, Has Proved to be Much More Serious
Than Was at First Supposed.

Vigorous Measures of Suppression
Are Being Used—All Hostile
Newspapers Have Ceased Publication.

Scripps-McRae Service.

Madrid, Aug. 13.—A Carlist rising has taken place in the province of Castillon. It was at first regarded as unimportant, but it has proved to be a great deal more serious than the government cares to admit. Troops are pouring into the district and the press censorship has been revived with vigor. Several of the most advanced newspapers have abandoned publication on account of the censorship. No official organs of the republicans and the Carlists are being published. The government believes that it is able to cope with any Carlist uprising that may take place and the most rigorous measures will be resorted to in suppressing them.

TERMS OF THE PROTOCOL.

Scripps-McRae Service.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The peace protocol was signed at 4:25 p. m. yesterday. As soon as the signatures were attached the president sent for Secretaries Alger and Long and Adjutant General Corbin, and by his direction orders to cease hostilities were forthwith sent to General Miles, Merritt and Shafter and to Admirals Dewey and Sampson and military commanders generally. The protocol provided:

First, Spain relinquishes Cuba.

Second, cedes Porto Rico and all other Spanish West Indies and one of the Ladrones.

Third, the occupation of Manila.

Fourth, the Spanish immediately evacuate the above and the commissaries to meet at Havana and Cuba within thirty days.

Fifth, to appoint five commissioners to negotiate a final treaty of peace, to meet in Paris in October.

Sixth, immediate suspension of hostilities.

GOOD TIMES ARE COMING.

A New Prosperity Awaits the American People at the End of the Present Complications.

Commercial and Manufacturing
Associations All Over the Country
Predict the Advent of Better Times.

Scripps-McRae Service.

New York, Aug. 13.—The Journal publishes a number of dispatches from the heads of commercial and manufacturing associations from all parts of the country indicating that with the ending of the war prosperity will be revealed to the American people. Porto Rico and Cuba will open up new fields for American products and the construction of the Nicaragua canal will make an epoch in American commercial history. With the close of the war and the thoughts of the people turned to legitimate trade, a great business revival unrivaled in our history is predicted.

Over and Are Ready for Pence.

Scripps-McRae Service.

Madrid, Aug. 13.—Spain today is rejoicing over the termination of hostilities and a profound feeling of relief pervades among all classes of people. It is not believed that there will be any serious uprisings, and at least none that cannot be easily put down.

the Boys to Knoxville and

Scripps-McRae Service.

Chattanooga, Aug. 13.—Everything is ready for two divisions to move from Chickamauga to Lexington and Knoxville. Preparations for the actual departure will be made on arrival of Gens. Sanger and McKee at camp sites, McKee going to Lexington and Sanger to Knoxville. This will be about the 20th inst. Gen. HENSLEY
G. HARRIS.

He Has Had His Trial, Has Been
Exonerated, and Is Still a
Lieutenant in Paducah's Co. K.

The Trial Lasted for an Entire Day—The Only Charge Was Taking a Drink or Two
With Three Friends.

It will be good news to the many friends of Second Lieutenant Hensley G. Harris, of Co. K, to learn that at his trial by court martial he was completely exonerated. The trial lasted one day, according to a letter which arrived today.

It is understood that the only charges against him were for taking a drink or two with three friends. These were the only ones preferred, at any rate, and the court martial exonerated him and he is still second lieutenant of the company.

THE CUBANS ACCEPT.

Agree to Abide by the Protocol
And to Cease Hostilities.

Scripps-McRae Service.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The war department has been advised through the Cuban Junta that the Cuban insurgents will accept the terms of the peace protocol, and hostilities on their part will cease.

POSSIBLE TROUBLE

May Arise Over the Evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico
by the Spanish Troops.

The Protocol Does Not Preclude
the Possibility of Further Hostilities, Though They Are Not Probable.

Scripps-McRae Service.

Washington, Aug. 13.—There is a serious element of uncertainty about the prompt evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico by the Spanish troops. The Spanish government may refuse to evacuate those islands until it is found whether the Paris tribunal can reach a satisfactory settlement of the other questions at issue such as the Philippines. It is recognized that the protocol does not preclude the possibility of further hostilities and that is merely a tentative agreement, though a renewal of hostilities is not at all probable.

INHUMANITY OF WAR.

Terrible Work of the New Guns in the Recent Bread Riots in Italy.

A Milan correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung writes: "The effect of the new guns proved during the recent bread riots to be of a terrible description. By far the greater part of the wounded are doomed to die. The real number of those killed during the riots cannot remain a secret much longer, as too many are in the secret; certain it is there are considerably more than the official number. And the number of the wounded is extraordinarily large. Regarding the action of the new Ballestre guns, I have obtained the following information from medical men in and out of the army. Experiments had been made in Florence and Milan by firing at large tin boxes filled with wet bran, the specific weight and density of which about equals that of the human brain. At a distance of 300 to 600 yards the boxes exploded in many pieces, flying in all directions.

The explanation of this effect was believed to lie in the extreme velocity of the new projectiles. Where the bullet finds a strong obstacle, it imparts its momentum, transforming it into an impulsion, to the resisting object. The contents of the box—or of the skull—seek forcibly to escape in all directions and thus break the box or the skull. This explains why all who received a wound in the hand present the same terrible spectacle. In all of these cases the whole top of the skull is blown off like the lid of a box, and the brain forced out. If the bullet hits a muscle, it passes through, but if it hits a bone, it shatters it and hurls the pieces in all directions, the consequence being that all whose limbs are struck need amputation, while all who are hit in the body must die. At the same time the sufferings of the wounded are so horrible that it has been necessary to put many of them into straightjackets to save them from their own frantic movements."

FORMALDEHYDE.

Is Useful and Desirable for Sterilization Under Certain Conditions.

The employment of formaldehyde, or its solution, formalin, as a chemical agent for the destruction of bacteria is becoming of far wider application than its earlier use seemed to indicate. Originally its use was largely confined to household and quarantine disinfection, but its value soon appreciated. The simplicity of its application and its reliability soon commanded it as a germicide. One certainly would not go so far as to advise the substitution of formaldehyde for heat, steam or boiling water for the purposes of sterilization, but it is a useful and desirable substitute under certain conditions.

The reported boiling of instruments, especially edged ones, soon injures them, while the unequal expansion of steel and nickel causes scaling of the plating of the other instruments. Drs. Reik and Watson, in the last bullet of the Johns Hopkins hospital, describe an apparatus for formaldehyde sterilization of instruments which has proved most satisfactory.

My apparatus was primarily designed for the sterilization of iodofom gauges, a hitherto serious problem. It may be said that if the gauge was a finished product of the manufacturer was not sterile, it could not be absolutely sterilized without decomposing the iodofom. Fractional sterilization at sufficiently low temperatures is a tedious and untrustworthy process. Iodofom gauge is a satisfactory and widely employed dressing, usually applied directly to wounded surfaces, or for the tamponade of cavities. No question of its asperity should arise.—Medical Record.

A FEW THINGS CONCERNING CHAPERONES.

There are a few pointers concerning this indispensable adjunct to good society which seems to be little understood by a number of people.

A party of young people wish to go somewhere—picnic, ball, boating, etc. It is what will—the first thought is of the chaperone. In large cities the codes of society are so well known by its followers there is never such an unpardonable offense as a mistake being made. But in the smaller towns where strictures of what is correct are comparatively a new thing, where the parents never dreamed of chaperones and the girls have to be their own educators some very absurd mistakes are made, mistakes so ludicrous that the "great world" would laugh—politely of course—but laugh and sling their shoulders at the gaucherie. For instance, how often we read of the beautiful Mrs. Newbold a bride of often only a few weeks acting as chaperone. Nothing could be worse. In fact the bride of a year cannot act as chaperone, on the contrary, she herself must be chaperoned on all occasions of the least note. To illustrate the severity of these rules: A very beautiful widow who spends her winters in New York had an invitation to go yachting; a day's cruise around the bay. She is about 35, with two children in school, and the owner of the yacht was old enough to be her father—a great swell who visits England and hobnobs with the Prince of Wales. The Prince had taken a great fancy to his last yacht and induced him to sell it, so this was a new one, even finer than the other. It was an invitation half New York would have "given their heads" for, so it must be accepted, but the chaperone! No trouble to have secured a dozen as young or a little older than herself, but as the host was quite old the dreams must be elderly also, because you see it was to be only a very small party, the host, the pretty widow, the chaperone and a staid, dignified gentlewoman to entertain her. Of course she was found, but even in Greater New York a very elderly lady who would enjoy a day's toasting on the Atlantic is a rare avis. So you see the rich have their own troubles as well as the poor, and they are often more dreadful, because they are only bugaboos. But the slightest breach would stamp them "bad form" and the words "mauvais honneur" is to polite society something as dreadfully awful as the "Bodie man" to the bad little boy. An elderly maiden lady can only act as chaperone when she, to use a common phrase "wouldn't look at a man." As long as she cares for her, she is not available."

His troussan is not quite ready.

Campbell was fined $5 and costs for striking his daughter, and was recognized in the sum of $100 for his good behavior towards McRay. If he kills the latter, he will have to pay the $100 or go to jail, perhaps both. This would be great satisfaction to McRay, no doubt.
